Andrew Meiran's tiki paradise Pacific Seas is now open on the top floor of Clifton's at Broadway and 7th. Named in honor of one of Clifford Clinton's original establishments, the pan-Polynesian bar harkens back to the 'golden era' of travel with meticulous design and details including thatched bamboo walls, an art deco map room, custom mugs, and a 1600-year-old jade Mayan god sculpture. The menu complements the decor with dishes like bluefin tuna served in a pineapple shell, plus mai tais, fog-cutters, and more. The word is out, so plan ahead and book a table here.

The Los Angeles Streetcar took two big steps forward this month with the passage of Measure M, and the unanimous approval of the Streetcar's Environmental Impact Report by City Council. The Streetcar will run a one-way loop that begins at 1st and Broadway and proceeds south to 11th Street, where it turns west until Figueroa; it then heads north up to 7th, where it heads back east before heading north along Hill Street. Should Metro prioritize Measure M funding for the Streetcar, it could be up and running by 2020, with a projected 6,000 riders daily.

It's been a busy month for our neighborhood streets. We started off with Yelp's "Passport the Historic Core" series bringing throngs to special events and tastings at local businesses. No sooner had the election been called, Anti-Trump protests broke out and flooded Downtown, centered at City Hall and Pershing Square. Spring, Main, and Broadway became echoing thoroughfares for marches, as peaceful crowds chanted demands for love and inclusion. November 16th - 19th saw Airbnb take over 9th and Spring and our Broadway theaters for their TEDx meets music festival gala "Open Spotlight."

We're flattered to have our neighborhood get so much attention and love, yet at the same time, realize the need to balance these events with maintaining quality of life for our residents and businesses. Be sure to follow our social media and our website's news feed for the latest information and updates about street closures. Celebrate the holidays with new and old neighbors as some of our favorite local businesses throw holiday bashes. On December 7th, Heidi Merrick invites you to say hi and toast to her new store on 9th between Spring and Broadway. The very next day, Bolt Barbers celebrates 7 years in the hood with a free open bar fundraiser benefiting Homeless Healthcare Los Angeles. The seasonal frenzy tops out at the end of the month with the biggest party of the year - N.Y.E.L.A at Grand Park.
